Deep South's Color Barrier Slowly Being Broken Down

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negroes are peacefully breaking color barriers at formerly all-white Southern colleges and universities in sharp contrast to the bitter demonstrations that greeted Autherine Lucy's attempt to attend the University of Alabama.

Eight Southern states have accepted Negroes in both graduate and undergraduate division, a press survey showed today. No violence attended these changes which upset patterns that had stood for generations.

Arkansas admitted a Negro to its university law school in 1948. There was no incident. Hundreds have followed quietly.

Other Dixie states with Negro students ranging from a handful to hundreds include Oklahoma, Texas, Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee and Louisiana. In none of these states has there been any violence. Many of the Negroes live in campus dormitories and most eat in school cafeterias with the white students. A few have been admitted into professional fraternities but there is little social mingling.

Most of the schools which have admitted Negroes, either voluntarily or under court order, had no exact figures. Estimates range from 500 to more than 1,000 in the eight states which practice collegiate integration.

Dr. Guy Johnson, professor of social science at the University of North Carolina, has completed a study of the subject and estimates that about 1,000 Negroes are in state-supported Southern colleges with another 1,000 in privately endowed institutions.

A federal court order broke the racial barrier in North Carolina last fall at the general college level when three Negroes enrolled at the university at Chapel Hill. One lives in a dormitory on the campus and the other two plan to move in next fall. All say they get along well with their white classmates.

Both the university and N.C. State have Negro graduate students.

Senator Fears Free World Aiding Commies

McClellan Opens Probe Into Strategic Goods Going To War Machine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) today accused high government officials of withholding information about what he said are mounting free world sales of strategic materials to Russia's "war machine."

Opening public hearings of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, Chairman McClellan said the group has received "evidence that merchants of the free world are helping to build up Russia's military potential by furnishing them items which are indispensable in constructing or maintaining a war machine."

He said this trade volume has reached "very disturbing" proportions since a 1954 meeting in Paris at which the United States agreed to a relaxation of curbs on free world trade with the Soviet Union.

McClellan said obstacles have been raised to his efforts to pinpoint the scope of the agreement and to find out what American officials consented to it.

"This subcommittee is determined to get that information if it is within its power to do so," he added.

PRIOR INQUIRIES into East-West trade have set off some bitter rows between the subcommittee and administration officials.

The start of public hearings came after a closed door meeting yesterday between McClellan and undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. Neither Hoover nor McClellan would comment, but other subcommittee members, who declined to be quoted by name, said Hoover had advised strongly against a public investigation, citing possible impact on U. S. relations with Western allies.

McClellan said the easing of the trade curbs "has been harmful to the security of the non-Communist world."

Burning Of Cross Said Just 'Prank'

ALLIANCE (AP)—College President Carl C. Brady dismissed today as a "student prank" the burning of a cross in a Negro section by seven Mount Union students.

The seven were fined $25 and costs yesterday in municipal court for disturbing the peace. Judge Harry S. Wykoff suspended five-day jail sentences pending any college disciplinary action.

College officials said the students did not realize the significance of the burning cross, which was used as a symbol to terrorize Negroes in Ku Klux Klan days.

Thursday Memo: Parking Is Free

You can ignore those parking meters along the curbs in downtown Circleville Thursday.

It will be Dollar Day at the city's stores, and the free parking arrangement is part of the welcome for shoppers expected from all over the district. Dollar Day traditionally attracts a large crowd of prospective buyers to Circleville's business section.

Participating merchants will have their best merchandise on display, at prices especially set to lure the day's buying spree.

Icy Air Mass Spreads Over Midwest Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Icy air spread across wide areas of the Midwest from the northern Rockies today as most of the South and East enjoyed mild winter weather.

The cold air from Canada, which kept temperatures below zero along the Canadian border in Montana and the Dakotas, moved southeastward into the upper and middle Mississippi valleys and the western Great Lakes region.

At the same time warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico extended northeastward from the Gulf Coast through the Ohio Valley to New England as well as along the entire Atlantic Seaboard. Readings were in the low 60s in the Ohio Valley and considerably warmer than 24 hours earlier in areas east of the Appalachians.

Precipitation was reported in both the cold and mild sections. Showers and thunderstorms hit parts of the west and central Gulf states and in the Ohio Valley. Scattered snow flurries fell in the northern and central Plains and in the northern Rockies. Snow showers were reported in western Washington and Oregon.

In the rain belt, heaviest falls were in the Ohio Valley and middle Mississippi Valley.

This morning it was 22 below in Cut Bank, Mont., while Havre, Mont., reported -13, which was 19 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

Exercise Leadership On Civil Rights, Not Lungs, GOP Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) called on the Eisenhower administration today to "exercise its leadership rather than its lungs" in obtaining congressional action on civil rights legislation.

Humphrey, a supporter of Adlai E. Stevenson's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, struck back at the contention of Vice President Nixon in a New York speech Monday that the Democrats have proved themselves "helpless and futile" in this field.

"We might make some substantial progress in the field of civil rights legislation in this Congress if we can get just a little help from Republicans," Humphrey said. "If we do, the administration will have to exercise its leadership rather than its lungs."

"I might remind the Republicans that during the 83rd Congress which they controlled a whole series of civil rights bills were introduced and I don't recall that a

Anne F. Epler Scores Highest In Senior Test

First 3 Positions Go To CHS Pupils; Countian Ranks 4th

Circleville High School dominated the top scoring in the general scholarship test for seniors, placing six in the first ten places.

Anne Fontaine Epler of CHS ranked first with a score of 200. A perfect score is 300.

Second and third positions were also taken by city seniors. Charles J. Montgomery scored 189 and Sally Arlene Clifton has 187.

Highest score recorded by a student outside of Circleville was by Stan Jones of Monroe Township School, who ranked fourth in the top ten. Jones, who is also a fine athlete, had a point total of 185.

RODGER L. Southward of CHS was fifth with a score of 175. Mary Jo Smith of Circleville and Don J. Hedges of Ashville-Harrison School tied for sixth with scores of 171.

Another tie was noted for eighth place. Point scores of 167 were made by both Judy Ann Bowers of Ashville-Harrison and Peggy J. Hoover of Walnut Township.

Charles J. Montgomery scored 157; Shirley Jeanette West of Williamsport, 157; Donna Morse Mitchell of Circleville, 154; Carol Louise Bass of Circleville, 153; and Evelyn Louise Van Fossen of Salterick, 153.

Eight other seniors ranked in the upper 25 percent in the country and received honorable mention. These included:

CELEBRATING his 107th December birthday by demonstrating a fast typing pace at his home in Boise, Id., Anton Gordon offered these tips for longevity: don't eat between meals; take a big drink of warm water and a warm foot bath before retiring; be happy at mealtime; eat two meals a day; don't worry, and don't be afraid of dying. He does not wear spectacles. He wrote his own funeral sermon, which has been recorded for delivery.

Lausche 'Lays Tender Trap' For Prize On National Scene

COLUMBUS (AP)—Time magazine says in its cover story this week that this year "is almost certainly" Gov. Frank J. Lausche's "cue to enter the state of national politics."

The magazine says "if Adlai Stevenson falters in the primaries or fails to win the presidential nomination on the first ballot at the Democratic convention, Lausche will stand as good a chance as anybody else—better than most—to get a spot in the national ticket."

Lausche will be Ohio Democrats' "favorite son" for the presidential nomination at the national convention.

The magazine story added:

Adlai Irked By Sniping From GOP

SEATTLE (AP)—Adlai Stevenson took his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to the land of huge dams and atomic energy today after telling an audience here that the Eisenhower administration has left this country unprepared to cope with Communist expansion.

Hammering at what he called the "frequent and foolish failures" of the Republicans, Stevenson told a $25-a-plate Democratic rally last night that the desire for peace is not a partisan problem.

"But there are crucial differences among us as to methods, policies and the vigor with which we shall pursue them," he said. "I am not one of those who feels, or says for partisan advantage, that all the administration has done in this field is wrong or has wholly failed."

"But I am shocked when I read every day that all is well and that whatever a Democrat says about the conduct of our foreign affairs must be taken with a grain of salt."

The former governor of Illinois told the audience of 400 persons that communism cannot be stopped by slogans or "a Republican chorus of 'peace and prosperity.'

Farm Bureau Raps Road Use Taxation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation today opposed a bill to raise federal road use taxes, contending the states "should continue to have the primary responsibility for financing highways."

This was an apparent reference to a Jan. 23 statement by Eisenhower that "confusion between politics and the Supreme Court" should be avoided.

Stennis told the Senate yesterday that Nixon's statement had acknowledged "officially" that the court's desegregation decision was "purely a political one."

The federation, one of the nation's major farm organizations, advocated instead "continuation of the present level" of federal highway spending (about $700 million a year) and "termination of the federal gasoline tax so that this source of revenue may be made available to the states."

New Sewer Rates In Effect March 1

Leist Explains Certain Changes In Billing Will Be Necessary

April 1 under the old ordinance.

For a single dwelling, this difference will be about 30 cents. The first full quarterly bill will be dated July 1.

Zone 3 (everything North from the North side of Main St., with a few exceptions)—will be billed on May 1, to which date these users have paid under the old ordinance. They will be charged the difference between old and new rates for March and April, 60 cents for a single dwelling, with the first full quarterly bill being dated August 1.

Each bill contains the zone number in which the resident lives.

Leist said that a complete house-to-house survey is to be made at an early date, the first since 1949. He explained that this will be determined whether proper charges are being made in each and every case.

HERE is how the new billings will affect local residents:

Zone 2 (everything from the North side of Mill St. to the South side of Main St., with a few exceptions)—will be billed March 1 but there will be no charge. Under the old ordinance, these residents are paid up to that date and therefore will not receive another bill until June 1.

Zone 1 (everything South from the South side of Mill St., with a few exceptions)—will be billed on April 1. This will contain a charge for the month of March between the old and new rate, because of user within the city. There is no change in this except the rate to be charged.

A "political wise friend sees the Lausche strategy in another light. The governor, he thinks, has laid a tender trap."

"He's a little like the bachelor who has made peace with the opposite sex. He's not going to send a dozen roses, or a 5-pound box of candy, or buy box seats at the opera. He has decided that the only thing to do is just let 'em know he's available."

Penalty for non-payment of bills remains at 10 percent, if not paid on or before the 10th of the month in which the bill becomes due and payable. Bills will be dated the 1st day of the month in which they are due.

5. As has always been the case under Ohio law, unpaid bills will be certified over to the Pickaway County auditor for collection with and in the same manner, as real estate taxes. This is a continuation of established procedure.

He spoke at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce.

DiSalle said "There is a broad area of agreement where labor and management can meet, based essentially on gains derived by both in the production of their particular commodity and a realistic appraisal of losses to both which would result from a prolonged strike."

Production thus topped the previous peak, set in 1953, by $224 billion, or 6 per cent.

National income also hit a record high, the report said, with all segments of the economy except agriculture sharing the gains.

Scalpel In Back Said Self-Inflicted

CLEVELAND (AP)—A museum director stabbed himself in the back with a scalpel, homicide detectives said today.

Police Capt. David E. Kerr said Colton Storm, 48, director of the Western Reserve Historical Society admitted trying to commit suicide because of the "burden of decisions" preying on his mind and fear of the recurrence of an ulcer.

Storm had telephoned police Monday and said an unknown intruder inflicted the wound. When police arrived at the society's museum, the scalpel was still sticking in Storm's back.

Thye, a member of the special committee looking into the money offer to Case, said Neff was not asked the source of the $2,500 he gave to the Nebraska GOP State Central Committee.

"The committee will find out before it closes its investigation," he said.

Meanwhile, an air of utmost secrecy continued to surround the federal grand jury looking into the $2,500 contribution which Case rejected.

But in the opinion of Rep. William M. Ayres (R-Ohio), Eisenhower will refuse to be a candidate again.

Ayres, who declined to state the basis of his views, said he believes the White House will have an announcement "on that subject" about Feb. 23.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said there is "a great deal of difference between carrying on the full load of the presidency and just staying in the White House."

"THERE'S A great deal of difference too between staying in the White House and carrying on an active campaign for the presidency," Sparkman said. "The President has indicated he will take these factors into consideration. When he weighs everything, I still believe he won't run."

The stock market opened active and sharply higher in the wake of the announcement by the doctors.

Prices of key issues were up from one to four dollars a share in the opening minutes. Transactions were so heavy that the high-speed ticker tape fell behind.

The feeling on Wall Street is that Eisenhower is closer to heading 1956 GOP ticket than at any time since his heart attack.

Federal Judge Gives Break To Young GIs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Justice was tempered with mercy Tuesday in Federal Court when two young paratroopers escaped civil punishment after pleading guilty to taking a stolen car across state lines.

Other dispositions included:

Rebecca Middlestead of Chicopee Falls, Mass., five years probation for embezzling $1,560 from the Ashville Banking Co., Ashville, Ohio and trucking firm operator Lorain Leroy Erskine of Cambridge, Ohio, fined $1,900 for violations of Interstate Commerce Commission regulations.

Thomas R. Richards, 19, of Cleveland and Thomas J. Delph, 18, of New Philadelphia were charged with going AWOL and stealing a car to visit their families last Christmas before being shipped overseas.

Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood remanded the two to the custody of the U. S. Marshal until they are picked up by military authorities.

The court was told the two stole a car after being stranded in Guthrie, Ky., and drove it to Mt. Vernon, Ohio. They were stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Conviction for taking a stolen car across state lines usually carries a long prison term.

429 Are Killed By Winter In West Europe

France Hardest Hit By Deep Freeze; Ice Threatens a Waterways

LONDON (P)—Europe's relentless cold wave had claimed at least 429 dead today after 2½ weeks. Relief still was not in sight.

Subfreezing temperatures stretched across the continent. St. Tropez on the French Riviera playground had the heaviest snowfall (16 inches) in memory. Icepacks slowly forced the 1,900-ton Swedish cargo ship Matilda on Sweden's rocky Baltic coast. Helicopters stood by to rescue the crew of 20.

The ice also threatened the last open sea lane between eastern and western Denmark.

People in hundreds of isolated villages in Italy and on lonely Baltic islands ran short of food.

By countries, these deaths were recorded from cold, fire, storms, avalanches and accidents attributed to the freezeup:

France 107, Yugoslavia 65, Italy 63, Britain 45, Greece 30, Denmark 27, Germany 25, Turkey 41, Austria 17, The Netherlands 15, Portugal 14, Spain 12, Switzerland 11, Sweden 6, Belgium 5, Poland 4 and Libya 2.

MORE WERE feared dead in small communities still isolated. No complete figures were available for Iron Curtain countries, which were suffering at least as badly as Western Europe.

Ice stopped all inland shipping throughout West Germany. The Rhine flooded because icepacks at Kaub, near the famous Lorelei Rock, stopped the water from flowing downstream.

U. S. Army engineers and German frontier guards blasted away ice to release flood waters on the Danube, frozen over for 140 miles.

Temperatures in West Germany ranged generally between 5 and 20 degrees but Weiden, in Bavaria, had to below. Berlin reported 4 below and Vienna hit its lowest of the freezeup—14 below.

Italy launched a big clear-the-roads campaign to reach areas cut off 10 days or more. Motor convoys, helicopters and ski troops moved in with food, medicine and fuel.

Sixty-five U. S. Air Force Flying Boxcars wound up the biggest European airlift since the Berlin blockade, completing delivery from Germany of 70,000 pounds of relief supplies for the hard-hit Italians.

French cities were short of fresh vegetables. Gardeners suffered damage running into the millions.

Fresh snow piled up over south-east England. Roads in 75 British counties were declared dangerous. A northerly gale sent east coast shipping running for shelter.

There was one bright spot—Spain. Its weeklong cold wave broke after claiming 12 lives and ruining two-thirds of the orange crop. Madrid had sunshine with temperatures above freezing.

Legion Says To 'Forgive' Tokyo Rose

SPRINGFIELD (P)—Tokyo Rose should be forgiven for her World War II broadcasts to U. S. servicemen in the South Pacific, members of the local American Legion Post says.

A resolution asks that Mrs. Ivan Ikukdo Togure D'Aquino be restored to U. S. citizenship. It states: "There is no record that Tokyo Rose ever convinced a single fighting man of a single statement she made, but rather, was a source of entertainment to hundreds of thousands of these fighting men" and did not impede the progress of the Pacific War in any manner.

It states: "There is no record that Tokyo Rose ever convinced a single fighting man of a single statement she made, but rather, was a source of entertainment to hundreds of thousands of these fighting men" and did not impede the progress of the Pacific War in any manner.

Tokyo Rose, who was released from the Federal Reformatory for Women at Alderson, W. Va., in January after serving six years, has paid her debt to society, the resolution states.

The Legion post's request will be sent to Congressmen Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) urging him to suggest to the Department of Justice that it reconsider its decision ordering her deported.

"Like all Americans," said Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson, "I am of course delighted at the favorable report on the condition of the President's health."

SEN. LYNDON B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic floor leader, said:

"As a fellow human being who has gone through the same thing, I am very pleased that the medical report is so favorable. I know every American will be happy."

Johnson suffered a heart attack last July.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa) said he feels confident "the President will be a candidate again in order that he may continue the program he has so magnificently begun."

But in the opinion of Rep. William M. Ayres (R-Ohio), Eisenhower will refuse to be a candidate again.

"In my judgment, President Eisenhower will not be a candidate in 1956," the congressman told a Lincoln Day dinner in Alhambra, Calif. "But he will be the most effective campaigner we have ever seen. He believes in the honesty and integrity of the people."

Ayres, who declined to state the basis of his views, said he believes the White House will have an announcement "on that subject" about Feb. 23.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We don't know what her basic or enduring sentiments are at this time, because she's overwhelmed with immediate panic—and shame and resentment and guilt feelings.

Our minor-age, unmarried daughter is pregnant. She no longer loves the boy responsible, and to force her into a loveless marriage would be cruel.

We have a grown son at home, from whom the secret cannot be concealed much longer.

The possibility of placing our daughter in a maternity home until afterwards, and later giving the child for adoption, is one solution, I realize. But how do you go on living with the thought that your own grandchild is lost to you forever?

Our daughter is a sweet beautiful girl on the threshold of life. Need she be a social outcast forever, with no hope for future happiness? What is the answer? Would you please recommend various social agencies that consider situations like this?

C. B.

DEAR C. B.: It seems to me that extensive experience of living teaches us the waste of trying to run away from mistakes or trying to bury or disclaim them. Far better, I think, to take them in stride; in terms of accepting responsibility for trying to pick up the pieces, and repair the damage insofar as possible.

I don't see how you can, in conscience, treat the (anticipated) grandchild's welfare as being less important, overall, than your daughter's happiness. And I wonder what might be the long-term cost to her character and mental health and peace of soul, if she were to give the child for adoption, hastily and furtively, in hopes of drawing a curtain on this part of her life forever.

You say Dot (let's call her) no longer loves the boy responsible, and to force her into a loveless marriage would be cruel. One might ask: was she ever in love, if she can recoil so quickly, when confronted with a frightening bill for mutual folly? She probably

PURINA MIKE WINS!

Mike Outweighed Ike By 45 Lbs. His Cost of Gain Was Only 8c Per Lb.

What a licking MIKE, the Purina-fed pig we grew out in our store, gave IKE, the pig that got no Purina!

These registered gilts were donated to the Fox F.F.A. boys by J. AUSTIN DOWDEN, local Rt. 2, hog farmer. We displayed and fed them and the boys sold donation tickets on them. The lucky winners were Keith Bidwell, Rt. 2, City and Howard Boss, Rt. 3, Mt. Sterling. Congratulations fellows!

HERE'S THE RECORD OF HOW THEY GREW

	Purina Fed Mike	Puny Corn Fed Ike
Weight at Start	69 lbs.	75 lbs.
Weight at Finish	125 lbs.	113 lbs.
Days on Feed	45	45
Gain in Lbs.	56	38 lbs.
Cost Per Lb. Gain	8c	9.7c

Mike gained twice as fast as Ike and did it at $1.70 per 100 lbs. less cost despite having pneumonia for 2 weeks.

No wonder more and more hog men are turning to Purina. It's because of the almost unbelievable results they get when hogs are fed on Purina's Profit Plan for hogs.

Standards Set Up For School Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—The state board of education has adopted general standards and procedure for needy school districts to receive aid for more classrooms.

State assistance for school construction will be doled out under the seven million dollars appropriated for such purposes by the recent special session of the Ohio Legislature.

Under the standards, school districts must:

Show a critical need for new buildings.

Exhaust all local resources for building funds by voting the legal maximum of nine per cent bonded indebtedness.

Show that building plans are adequate and complete.

Show that 20 per cent or more of the district's pupils are poorly housed.

The board adjourned a two-day meeting Tuesday. It indicated it will discourage district requests for funds to construct school auditoriums, gymnasiums and so-called general purpose rooms in elementary schools as items in the emergency state aid program.

Calling for a "general house-cleaning in our colleges," board member Cecil M. Sims of Piqua put part of the blame on the state's present teacher shortage on "more and more requirements" in teacher-training courses.

It has come to the point, he said, "where our young people just are not interested in teaching careers."

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We don't know what her basic or enduring sentiments are at this time, because she's overwhelmed with immediate panic—and shame and resentment and guilt feelings.

Our minor-age, unmarried daughter is pregnant. She no longer loves the boy responsible, and to force her into a loveless marriage would be cruel.

We have a grown son at home, from whom the secret cannot be concealed much longer.

The possibility of placing our daughter in a maternity home until afterwards, and later giving the child for adoption, is one solution, I realize. But how do you go on living with the thought that your own grandchild is lost to you forever?

Our daughter is a sweet beautiful girl on the threshold of life. Need she be a social outcast forever, with no hope for future happiness? What is the answer? Would you please recommend various social agencies that consider situations like this?

C. B. DEAR C. B.: It seems to me that extensive experience of living teaches us the waste of trying to run away from mistakes or trying to bury or disclaim them. Far better, I think, to take them in stride; in terms of accepting responsibility for trying to pick up the pieces, and repair the damage insofar as possible.

Her sudden revulsion to the boy is chiefly indicative of irresponsible immature character, I think. She simply blindly wants out of the problem they've precipitated; and by implication blames him for her share of foolhardiness. To some advisers, this unstrung attitude of hers might seem to justify a coverup plan of action, designed to give her a second try at girlhood. But I am not sure this would be the greatest kindness to her in the long run.

Civil Ceremony Seen

If the boy is an acceptable sort—that is, of a decent family known to you, from a social background comparable to yours, with a good reputation generally—the constructive next move might be for the youngsters to marry, in a legal ceremony, to give their child a legitimate start in life. And to establish the babe's kinship to the natural grandparents. As the principals are minor-age (and if your religion permits), a quiet divorce (or annulment) might follow later. But consult your family lawyer or spiritual director on these points.

As for social agencies that care for this type of problem—there are two outstanding associations, each of which has local establishments, and local advisory services, in various parts of the nation.

One organization is the Florence Crittenton Home Association, headquartered at 608 S. Dearborn St., Chicago. (Address inquiries to Miss Virgil Payne, director). The other is the Family Service Association of America, with headquarters at 192 Lexington Ave., New York City 16. Address inquiries to Miss Virginia L. Amos, field director—if you wish to contact the agency nearest you.

RESEARCH THE KEY

WISE MEN TOLD pessimists, who said during the depression decade that America had nowhere to go, that this nation was bristling with potential new frontiers. They were right. The key to the greatest frontiers is proving to be industrial research.

There was little research a quarter of a century ago. It has had its greatest development in the past 10 years. During the past decade thousands of new plants have been built and thousands of others modernized for the making of merchantable products discovered in laboratories.

E. D. Reeves, president of the Industrial Research Institute, says "research now is a basic part of almost every growth industry in our economy and the creator of an ever increasing number of entirely new industries." Already more than 2 per cent of the gross national product is being spent on research.

One national need, in keeping research going, is technologists and engineers.
America is graduating too few of these from its technical schools. As recognition increases that research is the nation's greatest expansive factor, however, emphasis in the educational process may be expected to turn more students into the fields which are keeping America economically great.

"BUY HIGH, SELL LOW"

FOR STOCK now is selling "over the counter" for less than the millions who clamored for it less than a month ago paid for these shares. Trying to apportion the shares that were available to customers who apparently would have bought billions was a headache for brokers.

But now that the stock can be picked up for less than the $64.50 price buyers paid for it in January, does the public rush to brokerage houses to obtain the shares it was clamoring to buy at a higher price a few weeks ago? Obviously not, or the price would have gone up instead of down.

Perhaps in no other instance is the herd instinct so apparent as when amateurs rush to buy stocks. What everybody wants is the issue to buy, and when everybody wants it is the time to buy, seems to be the theory on which the financially unsophisticated public operates.

Ford stock conceivably could sell for more than the $64.50 price per share when it is listed on the stock market. If quotations for it rise, the higher they go the more demand there will be from the amateur dabblers in stocks.

'NON-FUMBLE' FOOTBALLS

LEATHER experts now have developed a "non-fumble" football, one that supposedly clings to a player's hand. This new-type pigskin was first used in the bowl games this season, including the Rose classic.

The ball is made of a "tacky" leather that is non-skid and is not so likely to pop out of a runner's hands when wet and muddy. The orb reportedly even "sticks" to a player's jersey.

This innovation offers a ray of hope to coaches who failed to perform miracles during the recent gridiron season and in consequence fear severance from the payroll.
If they are good salesmen they should

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

I was puzzled as to the course of events which brought me to this hospital. It seems that I was a very bad boy and did not want to go. What I remember is that I found myself on a bed that is split in parts with the hardest mattress I ever rested on and which they said is good for you.

Everything they do to you here is good for you and they tell it so often that you come to believe it. My favorite needle sticker has even convinced me that it is good for me when it hurts.

So you lie flat on your back, gaze at a ceiling and try not to think because all emotions, anxieties, frustrations are bad for you. It is only good to be a cabbage, to lie and wait to be picked up and put down.
But the old brain does work and you think of this and that, of the mistakes you have made, of the friends who have double-crossed you, of the friends whom you have permitted yourself to forget, of those with whom you are going to get even, of those whom you love.

Maybe you say a little prayer to God to pull you through. Maybe you think of your father and mother and all the things you might have done. Then you have thought enough and you fall asleep.

They say that sleep is good for you; that it is the real cure. I have not had much sleep in my life, always feeling that it was a terrible waste. Most of my nights have been spent reading and like Harry Truman, I enjoy reading history. Once an editor got very angry with me because I did not read the same things he had read. Well, that is human nature.

Each one of us imagines that his way is the smartest, if not the only way. I have read enormously in my lifetime but there are whole areas which I have naturally not touched because I have not lived long enough. There is just too much to do.

And now I shall have to sleep nights if I am not to come back here. There will be fewer hours to discover where the conduct of today started. Because when you read about the early Egyptians or the Hittites or the Phoenicians or Chinese, what is so astonishing is that they did about the same things we do, particularly in politics.

Nobody has ever been able to learn the art of government, although they can do the most amazing things in the various realms of science.

The place I am in is an old hospital which was originally established by the German community in New York and before Prohibition was rich because the brewers, who were Germans, contributed heavily to it. So, it has good, German traditions, except in the kitchen which does not serve sauerbraten mit kartoffel kloesse.

This is very sad. I ask the dietitian who comes to see me each day about it, but she is adamant. No! You must eat salt-free, sugar-free, cream-free food, as tasteless as the human mind can conceive it, because it is good for you.

Everything that is really good, is bad for me, but I am now assured, that the day will come when I shall be permitted to eat, not what is good for me, but what tastes good, in due course. It is indeed a hopeful sign.

It used to be that fellows who got what they wanted died right off or were invalidated for life until they died. That is not so today.
With care and sensible handling of themselves, they go right on building careers.
From what I hear in this sick room,
Ike can go right on unless he gets upset emotionally talking to the politicians around him.

RESEARCH THE KEY

WISE MEN TOLD pessimists, who said during the depression decade that America had nowhere to go, that this nation was bristling with potential new frontiers. They were right. The key to the greatest frontiers is proving to be industrial research.

There was little research a quarter of a century ago. It has had its greatest development in the past 10 years. During the past decade thousands of new plants have been built and thousands of others modernized for the making of merchantable products discovered in laboratories.

E. D. Reeves, president of the Industrial Research Institute, says "research now is a basic part of almost every growth industry in our economy and the creator of an ever increasing number of entirely new industries." Already more than 2 per cent of the gross national product is being spent on research.

One national need, in keeping research going, is technologists and engineers. America is graduating too few of these from its technical schools. As recognition increases that research is the nation's greatest expansive factor, however, emphasis in the educational process may be expected to turn more students into the fields which are keeping America economically great.

'BUY HIGH, SELL LOW'

FOR STOCK now is selling "over the counter" for less than the millions who clamored for it less than a month ago paid for these shares. Trying to apportion the shares that were available to customers who apparently would have bought billions was a headache for brokers.

But now that the stock can be picked up for less than the $64.50 price buyers paid for it in January, does the public rush to brokerage houses to obtain the shares it was clamoring to buy at a higher price a few weeks ago? Obviously not, or the price would have gone up instead of down.

Perhaps in no other instance is the herd instinct so apparent as when amateurs rush to buy stocks. What everybody wants is the issue to buy, and when everybody wants it is the time to buy, seems to be the theory on which the financially unsophisticated public operates.

Ford stock conceivably could sell for more than the $64.50 price per share when it is listed on the stock market. If quotations for it rise, the higher they go the more demand there will be from the amateur dabblers in stocks.

'NON-FUMBLE' FOOTBALLS

LEATHER experts now have developed a "non-fumble" football, one that supposedly clings to a player's hand. This new-type pigskin was first used in the bowl games this season, including the Rose classic.

The ball is made of a "tacky" leather that is non-skid and is not so likely to pop out of a runner's hands when wet and muddy. The orb reportedly even "sticks" to a player's jersey.

This innovation offers a ray of hope to coaches who failed to perform miracles during the recent gridiron season and in consequence fear severance from the payroll. If they are good salesmen they should

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

I was puzzled as to the course of events which brought me to this hospital. It seems that I was a very bad boy and did not want to go. What I remember is that I found myself on a bed that is split in parts with the hardest mattress I ever rested on and which they said is good for you.

Everything they do to you here is good for you and they tell it so often that you come to believe it. My favorite needlestick has even convinced me that it is good for me when it hurts.

So you lie flat on your back, gaze at a ceiling and try not to think because all emotions, anxieties, frustrations are bad for you. It is only good to be a cabbage, to lie and wait to be picked up and put down. But the old brain does work and you think of this and that, of the mistakes you have made, of the friends who have double-crossed you, of the friends whom you have permitted yourself to forget, of those with whom you are going to get even, of those whom you love.

Maybe you say a little prayer to God to pull you through. Maybe you think of your father and mother and all the things you might have done. Then you have thought enough and you fall asleep.

They say that sleep is good for you; that it is the real cure. I have not had much sleep in my life, always feeling that it was a terrible waste. Most of my nights have been spent reading and like Harry Truman, I enjoy reading history. Once an editor got very angry with me because I did not read the same things he had read. Well, that is human nature.

Each one of us imagines that his way is the smartest, if not the only way. I have read enormously in my lifetime but there are whole areas which I have naturally not touched because I have not lived long enough. There is just too much to do.

And now I shall have to sleep nights if I am not to come back here. There will be fewer hours to discover where the conduct of today started. Because when you read about the early Egyptians or the Hittites or the Phoenicians or Chinese, what is so astonishing is that they did about the same things we do, particularly in politics.

Nobody has ever been able to learn the art of government, although they can do the most amazing things in the various realms of science.

The place I am in is an old hospital which was originally established by the German community in New York and before Prohibition was rich because the brewers, who were Germans, contributed heavily to it. So, it has good, German traditions, except in the kitchen which does not serve sauerbraten mit kartoffel kloesse.

This is very sad. I ask the dietitian who comes to see me each day about it, but she is adamant. No! You must eat salt-free, sugar-free, cream-free food, as tasteless as the human mind can conceive it, because it is good for you.

Everything that is really good, is bad for me, but I am now assured, that the day will come when I shall be permitted to eat, not what is good for me, but what tastes good, in due course. It is indeed a hopeful sign.

It used to be that fellows who got what I got either died right off or were invalided for life until they died. That is not so today. With care and sensible handling of themselves, they go right on building careers. From what I hear in this sick room, Ike can go right on unless he gets upset emotionally talking to the politicians around him.

NEW YORK (AP)—The war between the sexes reached a kind of climax yesterday—Valentine's Day.

This is the one day of the year that separates the men from the boys when it comes to the matter of dealing with the feminine gender.

Women, generally the stern realists of the human race, seem to come apart at the seams at this season. They appear lost in a cloud of moonbeams. Their usual whims of iron become whims of molasses. They are alternately demanding and placating, wistful and petulant.

"What gets into women around Valentine's Day anyway?" the ordinary man grumbles. "What do they want?"

That part of the problem is simple. A child may believe in Santa Claus all year round, but it is the present it finds under the tree at Christmas that confirms its belief.

Women are like that about love. Through most of the year a man can talk them into believing he loves them dearly, but at Valentine they want something more in the way of proof than conversation.

The age or size of the present you give them isn't so important. Often a small sprig of old diamonds will please them as much as a big heavy new mink coat. The main thing is that you remember them in a special way.

The bachelor, of course, is in special peril at this time. He may find that the boy of candy he buys a girl at Valentine will wind up by June into a honey-moon he has to pay for on the installment plan.

How can the cagy bachelor please his girl at Valentine and still not commit himself unalterably?

Here is a good sound tip for next year: Present her with an Irish sweepstakes ticket. If her horse wins, she'll have enough to meet her biggest, mushiest, most red-ribbon-bedded card you can find, but remember not to use your business signature. If her horse loses, he can then tell her, "So long, kid. It's been nice knowing you, but I gave you your chance. You can't expect an ambitious guy like me to be himself up for life to a hard luck dame like you."

What about the married man? Well, oddly enough, Valentine's day is no longer merely a single girl's racket. Wives have muscled into it on a wholesale scale.

A wife expects something extra from her husband on this day dedicated to love, even if she has to nudge her forgetful mate into presenting her with a black eye.

But such is the understanding nature of most wives, however, that it isn't really difficult to please them, bless their gentle souls.

Here are a few suggestions on how to surprise your wife on Valentine's Day next year and still remain solvent:

Send her the biggest, mushiest, most red-ribbon-bedded card you can find, but remem-

Strep Infection Often Causes Rheumatic Fever

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THIS, unfortunately, is the season for rheumatic fever.

Primarily a disease of the temperate climates in the northern hemisphere it flourishes in the cold, wet seasons and reaches its peak in late winter and early spring.

As usual, New England and the Rocky Mountain states probably will be hardest hit. The South generally is relatively free of the disease.

Rural Areas

Rural areas have fewer strep infections and rheumatic fever than the urban sections.

Why the weather should have an effect on the disease we don't exactly know. Neither do we know whether the tendency for the disease to pick on members of the same family is due to natural inheritance or environment.

But we do know that all brothers and sisters of a rheumatic fever victim should be examined for the disease. It might be well for their parents to have a thorough checkup, too.

Among the Poor

Proportionately few cases are found among well-to-do families, while many are discovered among the poor. Poor and crowded homes and bad working conditions help spread the strep infections which open the door to the disease.

Rheumatic fever seems to occur especially in homes made drafty and damp by broken windows, leaky roofs or poor ceilings.

While rheumatic fever is not catching, the triggering strep infection is.

This disorder may occur as a result of excessive secretion from the pancreas. You should have a careful study made by your family doctor.

Answer: As a general rule, low blood sugar is not serious. It will depend upon how low the sugar is and the condition that is producing it.

The most characteristic feature about stricken joints is that the pain flits from one joint to another. Most often the knees, ankles and wrists are involved.

Another thing to watch for is a decrease in the child's ability in school.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L. F. T.: I have had a laboratory examination and have been informed that I have low blood sugar. Is this serious?

Answer: As a general rule, low blood sugar is not serious. It will depend upon how low the sugar is and the condition that is producing it.

Miss McClelland Is Honored By Birthday Party

Miss Eloise A. McClelland of Amanda was honored on her birthday anniversary by a group of women from the Circleville Lamp Works.

The group attended a television show in Columbus, and later in the evening, had dinner in a Columbus restaurant.

Miss McClelland was presented with an orchid from the group and, at the restaurant birthday cakes were presented to her.

Mrs. Robert Davis and Mrs. Marlene Hall also celebrated anniversaries in January.

Those enjoying the evening were: Mrs. Catherine Cook, Mrs. Gladys Stover, Mrs. Keller, all of South Bloomfield; Mrs. Amanda Burris and Mrs. Tanny Holey of Circleville; Miss Florence E. Stahr of Laurelville; Mrs. Harold Young, Mrs. Sarah Dupler, Mrs. Roy L. McClelland, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. Marlene Hall of Buckeye Lake, and Miss McClelland.

She said that she buys only those things which will be useful and usually prefers something which can be acquired for small investment, then repaired or refinished. Her hobby is shared by her husband so that they consider the countless sales they attend as family entertainment.

She said that their pieces are all simple in design and each is incorporated into the other room furnishings, where they will serve a useful purpose. She said that she makes a special effort to make the antique furniture a part of the whole picture in each room, and not to use too many pieces which have no particular function.

Mrs. Macklin says she does not buy dishes as a rule though she owns and uses a number of old china and crystal pieces.

She also told of finding the original door from their house in an outside building and of how they repaired and refinished it so that they were able to rehang it, in place of the more modern, but not nearly so attractive door.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the evening.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Until he decides finally whether to run again President Eisenhower will be a lonely man, living with his conscience. Because his decision is a matter of conscience, no one can really help him make it.

He said recently, "I could devoutly wish there were some method by which the American people could . . . point out the path of my true duty. But . . . this is a question that first I alone must answer."

It would have been easy and necessary for him to decide against seeking a second term if his doctors, after their checkup this week, had said he could not physically endure another four White House years.

They said the opposite Tuesday. In doing so they put the decision entirely up to Eisenhower.

The attack was the result of deterioration in a blood vessel. Something in his body caused that deterioration. So a man who has had an attack has more reason to believe that there is deterioration which will cause another attack than has a man who has never had an attack.

There was no reason for Eisenhower's doctors to think he might have a heart attack, up to last Sept. 24. Now, as he knows, he could have another tomorrow even though his doctors tell him, from what they can see, he could serve actively for 5 to 10 more years.

The uncertainty of the President's life, or any man's, was illustrated Tuesday by his personal physician Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who told a news conference:

"I thought he was in very good health just prior to his heart attack—I would say we were a little led astray in our estimate that he was as well as we thought he was . . . We don't know that he won't have another cardiac accident."

That possibility, and what it might mean to the country, will be on Eisenhower's conscience as he turns over the problem in his mind. He has emphasized his decision will be based on what he thinks is good for the country.

Sidney Jail Escapee Found In Minster

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—Richard Baker, 23, was back in Shelby County Jail today after a brief 12 hours of freedom.

Baker, of Union City, Ind., escaped from his cell early Tuesday by breaking a lock. He was captured at Minster in neighboring Auglaize County after apparently coming out of hiding to get some food.

Baker surrendered peacefully to Police Chief Elmer Gerwels and two other officers. He was armed with the revolver he apparently had stolen from the home of the Shelby County sheriff.

Gerwels said Baker's capture climaxed a search for a suspicious looking man reported lurking in Minster.

Baker was spotted in Sidney trying to steal a car shortly after his escape. A 20-mile, bullet-punctuated chase ensued, but the fugitive

County Given $77.35 Under Old U. S. Law

Checks adding up to $8,013.15 were on their way today from State Auditor James A. Rhodes to 26 Ohio counties, including Pickaway, as revenue for schools and churches under a unique Federal land grant law dating back to 1787.

While Ohio was still a part of the Northwest Territory, certain lands were set aside for the benefit of schools and churches.

Ohio is the only state in the nation with such lands set aside for religious purposes by Congress.

Funds derived from the ministerial and school constitute one of the oldest sources of state revenue.

Young Leader Seen Needed For Schools

COLUMBUS (AP)—The State Board of Education has decided Ohio's school system needs a young leader with practical experience, a doctor's degree and the fortitude and vision to operate with a free hand.

The board adopted the suggestion of its personnel committee that the search for such a man may go to all corners of the nation.

Whoever is selected should be paid $20,000 a year to start as Ohio's superintendent of public instruction, the board said.

The post now is held on an interim basis by R. W. Eyman, former director of education under the old Department of Education setup which was in force until last month.

In establishing the qualifications the state superintendent should have, Charlton Myers of Marion, chairman of the personnel committee, told the board the man selected should be able to command "the respect of educators throughout Ohio and the nation, have practical experience as a teacher and public school administrator with a practical understanding of the value of public money. He will be able to work with legislators and public officers and to establish sound working relations with the agencies of public information. His age and health should be such that a substantial period of energetic leadership may be expected."

Schools and $540.56 for churches, a total of $3,145.52. Lowest was for $1 for schools in Bloom Township, Fairfield County. Pickaway County received $77.35.

French Food Expert Urges Greater Use Of Wine, Herbs

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

There are three American dishes that Fernande Garvin, French food expert, would take back to her native France: New England Clam Chowder, Boston Baked Beans and Southern Fried Chicken.

Mrs. Garvin is in this country to stimulate interest of American housewives in French cooking, particularly in the use of wines to supply subtle flavor.

"American women could add much to the quality and variety of their meals if they would learn to use wines and herbs in cooking," says Fernande. "Even those who feel that it's not quite nice to use wine should be reassured because, in cooking, all the alcoholic content of wines evaporates, leaving only the flavor, which adds so much to many dishes."

This alert and vivacious Frenchwoman, born and raised in the Bordeaux wine country, feels that it's sacrilege to drink water with meals because "you just wash away the flavor."

Here, for instance, is how she eluded officers after abandoning the car and fleeing on foot.

Baker is scheduled to go on trial today on a charge of cutting with intent to wound.

Next add one sliced carrot. This is to take off the acidity of the wine, says Fernande, who volunteers that she always put a few slices of carrots in a marinade for the same reason.

Also add a cup and a half of mushrooms, sliced or whole, and six small white onions.

Simmer several hours until meat is tender and the sauce divine.

Serve with hot crusty French bread for sopping up the sauce, and a crisp green salad.

Then sprinkle meat with flour, return to pot and stir until light brown once more. Add a cup and a half of red wine, one cup of consomme, salt, pepper, a couple of bay leaves, a pinch of thyme and a little chopped parsley, either fresh or dried.

Mrs. Garvin is in this country to stimulate interest of American housewives in French cooking, particularly in the use of wines to supplement subtle flavor.

"American women could add much to the quality and variety of their meals if they would learn to use wines and herbs in cooking," says Fernande. "Even those who feel that it's not quite nice to use wine should be reassured because, in cooking, all the alcoholic content of wines evaporates, leaving only the flavor, which adds so much to many dishes."

This alert and vivacious Frenchwoman, born and raised in the Bordeaux wine country, feels that it's sacrilege to drink water with meals because "you just wash away the flavor."

Baker is scheduled to go on trial today on a charge of cutting with intent to wound.

Baker surrendered peacefully to Police Chief Elmer Gerwels and two other officers. He was armed with the revolver he apparently had stolen from the home of the Shelby County sheriff.

Gerwels said Baker's capture climaxed a search for a suspicious looking man reported lurking in Minster.

Baker was spotted in Sidney trying to steal a car shortly after his escape. A 20-mile, bullet-punctuated chase ensued, but the fugitive

Young Leader Seen Needed For Schools

COLUMBUS (P)—The State Board of Education has decided Ohio's school system needs a young leader with practical experience, a doctor's degree and the fortitude and vision to operate with a free hand.

The board adopted the suggestion of its personnel committee that the search for such a man may go to all corners of the nation.

Whoever is selected should be paid $20,000 a year to start as Ohio's superintendent of public instruction, the board said.

The post now is held on an interim basis by R. W. Eyman, former director of education under the old Department of Education setup which was in force until last month.

In establishing the qualifications the state superintendent should have, Charlton Myers of Marion, chairman of the personnel committee, told the board the man selected should be able to command "the respect of educators throughout Ohio and the nation, have practical experience as a teacher and public school administrator with a practical understanding of the value of public money. He will be able to work with legislators and public officers and to establish sound working relations with the agencies of public information. His age and health should be such that a substantial period of energetic leadership may be expected."

Payments made today include school funds of $7,104.83 divided among the 26 counties, while eight of them share in $908.32 in

Chief Says Pay Scale Revision Greatly Needed For City Police

(First of a series)

A drastic revision in the pay scale for city police, now in the hands of Circleville councilmen, may be the only answer to better protection for the city, according to Chief Elmer Merriman.

The proposal now being considered calls for an increase in basic pay rates of officers plus raises of $3 a year for each year's service, with a maximum veteran. The measure also calls for increases for sergeants.

"Right now," the chief pointed out, "we have no incentive for new men. A man just joining the force makes just as much as a man who has been on duty for several years. That's not fair."

He pointed out that training plays an important part in the efficiency of present day police departments. (Circleville police attended a special school given by officials from London Prison Farm.)

"WE SHOULD endeavor to recruit men born and bred in our town," he said. "These men know the physical layout of the community and the . . . inhabitants."

"We feel that the police officer is entitled to a generous salary,"

This emotional business has me a bit puzzled because medicine and poetry meet at this point. The doctors tell you that more fat men than skinny ones get coronaries. They also say that smoking has a lot to do with it. But what they emphasize most is emotional stability; keep calm; don't get excited; don't permit worries and frustrations to get you down. That seems to be important.

Well, how do you get that way? I shall have to try it and shall tell you how it works, by lying here, I cannot think out how one lives an emotionless life. Did you read General MacArthur's reply to Harry Truman? Well, how is one emotionless about a thing like that? I know that I would be roaring for something or other if I had lost a son in Korea.

"If you expect to keep a clean, crime-free city or community," he told the association, "you must give this problem of inadequate police salaries some serious thought."

"We are looking for a superman—and what are we offering such a man as pay? A mighty small pay for the type of work he does."

Solon's Death Eyed

COLUMBUS (P)—Coroner Dr. Robert A. Zipf is expected to rule in the death of Fred P. Zimpler, 79, former Columbus city councilman, who was dead on arrival at a hospital after his auto crashed into a viaduct abutment last night.

Next add one sliced carrot. (This is to take off the acidity of the wine, says Fernande, who volunteers that she always put a few slices of carrots in a marinade, for the same reason.)

Also add a cup and a half of mushrooms, sliced or whole, and six small white onions.

Simmer several hours until meat is tender and the sauce divine.

Serve with hot crusty French bread for sopping up the sauce, and a crisp green salad.

BIS Boys Slated For Ordinary Garb

LANCASTER (P)—From now on, inmates at the Boys Industrial School here can wear ordinary dress clothes.

Clothing now worn by the boys is of a uniform type made by workers at the London Prison Farm, and includes a blue, over-seas-type hat.

School authorities have sent letters to parents and relatives of the inmates telling them they are expected to provide as soon as possible "suitable clothing" for the boys because "this will make possible more individuality for each boy and stimulate each boy to take good care of his own clothing, which is a valuable habit."

6 Ohio Commies Asking New Trial

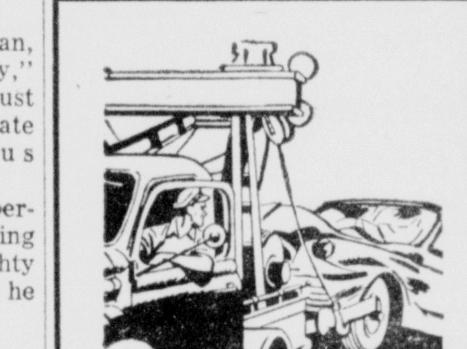

CLEVELAND (P)—Six Ohio Communists convicted of conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States government yesterday filed in U. S. District Court a motion for a new trial.

They said there were 24 errors in the conduct of the three-month trial.

Making the appeal were Joseph Brandt, George Kwatt, Martin Chancey, Anthony Krehmirek, Frank Hashmall and Mrs. Lucille Bethencourt. Four of their co-defendants were acquitted in the same trial.

Bowsher Memorial Award Balloting Nearly Completed

Only a few ballots need to be submitted to complete the balloting for the annual Bob Bowsher Memorial Trophy winner. Name of the County cager, selected for the high award by the County coaches, is scheduled to be announced at the tournament finals, Feb. 24.

The award is given to the cager, whose basketball playing during the season was marked by teamwork, cooperation, understanding of the game, and especially for sportsmanship. Besides these qualities, he must be outstanding both defensively and offensively.

The award is the highest which a County cager can be given and the basketeer is highly honored for his selection since all of the above qualities are considered.

The annual award was established in 1948 by the Circleville Herald in honor of Robert Allen Bowsher, a Circleville High School athlete who was killed in action during World War II.

ALTHOUGH he was not the best ball player, Bowsher was very good. He was a good scholar but did not make straight "A's." As a person exhibiting sportsmanship, Bowsher was matched by very few, since he was way up on top in this particular quality.

Bowsher was born in Pickaway

County Feb. 20 1922 so that if he had lived, he would be 34 next Monday. While at CHS, he played football and basketball and was on the track and boxing teams. He earned varsity letters in all four sports.

He stood six feet tall and weighed 200 pounds, excellent football material. He played both on the line and in the backfield, equally well.

Bowsher attended Tusculum College in Tennessee in 1941 and earned a varsity grid letter. The next year, he was playing for keeps for Uncle Sam in the armed forces.

Attaining the rank of sergeant, he boarded a ship in Boston in 1944 and went to England. Bowsher then was transferred to France shortly after D-Day among a group of replacements for the battered 29th Infantry Division.

IN JUNE, Bowsher was one of 22 volunteers to ask for commando duty behind German lines. While performing this dangerous duty, he was struck by shell fragment and was sent to the hospital.

The next month, he was back to duty. While working along the St. Lo road, Bowsher's squad leader, a Sgt. Erie, was cut down by a Nazi machinegunner. Headless of his own safety, Bowsher leaped from the cover of a hedgerow and dashed to his wounded leader and dragged him back to safety.

Later, while on the same mission, July 12, 1944, Bowsher was mortally wounded by a mortar shell fragment. He died two days later and was buried in La-Combe Cemetery in France.

After the war, his body was returned to the United States, and he was buried Feb. 2, 1948, in Forest Cemetery.

It was in this year that the first Bowsher Memorial Award winner was named — Jim Pickelsimer of Williamsport. Seven others since then, have been so honored. They are:

Bob Pontius of Walnut, 1948; Bill Rowley of Darby, 1950; Lester Sanders of Monroe, 1951; Harley Evans of Atlanta, 1952; Bill Evans of Pickaway, 1953; Kenny Kirk of New Holland, 1954; and Harold "Buzz" Gerhardt of Atlanta, 1955.

Second Round Of Tourney Set For Tonight

Two basketball games, both promising to be top-notchers, will be played tonight in the second round of the 1956 County Class "B" tournament in the County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Monroe will be out to avenge a league defeat hung on by Pickaway, 47-40. The loss to the Pirates was only one of two suffered by the Indians in 16 games during the season.

The Pirates, always considered a dangerous tournament team, have an unimpressive 6-10 overall mark. However, the Pickaway squad is bursting with potential.

IN THE second game, Jackson, a 79-70 victor over Williamsport in the opening tournament game, will take on Saltcreek.

The Wildcats, seeded third in the drawings, defeated Saltcreek twice during the past season. In a non-league contest, Jackson downed the Warriors 74-70 and in a league affair, the Jackson cagers were victorious, 85-78. In both games, Jackson had to put on rallies to come from behind.

Although Saltcreek brings into the tournament a losing 5-12 record, the Warriors will provide plenty of action, especially if Eddie Van Fossen and Jim Hardman, the two scoring aces, are hitting.

After the war, his body was returned to the United States, and he was buried Feb. 2, 1948, in Forest Cemetery.

It was in this year that the first Bowsher Memorial Award winner was named — Jim Pickelsimer of Williamsport. Seven others since then, have been so honored. They are:

CLEVELAND (AP) — A one-time usher at the Cleveland Indians Old League Park made arrangements under a gentleman's agreement yesterday to purchase the Tribe for nearly $4 million.

still has one more to play, traveling to Greenfield Friday. The Tigers, cellar dwellers in the SCOL, have nothing to lose—and playing on their home court might prove tough to beat.

The Fayette Countians can now do no worse than tie for the title. Their victory avenged their earlier and only SCOL defeat at the hands of Wilmington.

Circleville, which had an easy time of it against Hillsboro in their previous meeting, might run into some trouble. The Indians, when they played here, were plagued with a phenomenal streak of tough luck. They could not buy a field goal for anything and made little more than one-fourth of their shots.

Hillsboro can field a lot of height and is a team not to be taken lightly despite their poor record. Coach Red Courtney's cagers will have to go all out if they hope to come out on top.

The Tigers and Kittens return to the E. Mill St. gym on Feb. 24 is the season's finale when they take in Logan's chiefs. Victories in the Hillsboro and Logan games will give CHS one of its best basketball seasons in many years.

New Holland Reserves Cop League Title

New Holland's smooth-working reserve squad won the County League reserve title by going through its league schedule unscathed in ten outings.

The Bulldog seconds, all sophomores, had an overall season mark of 16-1, the lone defeat coming at the hands of Jefferson, 45-34, when the New Holland squad was seeking victory No. 13.

New Holland began its league victory string by downing Monroe, 55-35. Other league wins were over: Jackson, 43-37; Walnut, 65-32; Williamsport, 54-22; Atlanta, 37-18; Ashville, 40-39; Pickaway, 40-31; Saltcreek, 68-41; Scioto, 46-31; and Darby, 62-45.

Close behind New Holland in the league standings was Ashville, whose only defeat was by one point to the Bulldogs. Ashville was well on the way to a victory in this particular ball game when the Bulldogs staged a great last minute rally to overcome a six-point deficit.

ASHVILLE'S only other loss was in non-league competition to Mt. Sterling, 30-20.

Jackson and Scioto tied for third place with 7-3 records. Darby finished in fourth with 6-4; Walnut, 5-5; Monroe, sixth, 4-6; Atlanta, seventh, 3-7; Pickaway and Saltcreek, eighth, 2-8; and Williamsport, 0-10.

Reserve standings:

	Won	Lost
New Holland	10	0
Ashville	9	1
Jackson	7	3
Scioto	7	3
Darby	6	4
Walnut	5	5
Monroe	4	6
Atlanta	3	7
Pickaway	2	8
Saltcreek	2	8
Williamsport	0	10

Santee Fate To Be Ruled On Sunday

NEW YORK (AP) — The fate of star milie Wes Santee, who faces permanent suspension as an amateur athlete, likely will be decided Sunday by a seven-man AAU investigating committee.

Santee, a Marine lieutenant whose 4:00:5 mile is the fastest ever run by an American, yesterday threatened legal action if he is barred from running in the 1956 Olympic games in Melbourne.

The investigating committee comprised of AAU and Olympic officials will look into what Pincus Sober, chairman of the seven-man group, called "new information not previously revealed."

Santee was suspended by the Missouri Valley AAU last Oct. 11 on charges that he accepted "excessive expenses" for three track meets in California in May.

On Nov. 20, however, the Missouri Valley AAU board of managers lifted the suspension on the grounds of insufficient evidence. Santee resumed his running career but withdrew from indoor meets in New York on a request from the investigating committee.

"My whole career as an athlete is jeopardized," Santee, former University of Kansas athlete, told a stormy meeting of the New York Track Writers Assn.

"More than anything else I want to run for my country and for the Marine Corps in the Olympics."

New Holland Reserves Cop League Title

New Holland's smooth-working reserve squad won the County League reserve title by going through its league schedule unscathed in ten outings.

The Bulldog seconds, all sophomore, had an overall season mark of 16-1, the lone defeat coming at the hands of Jeffersonville, 45-34, when the New Holland squad was seeking victory No. 13.

New Holland began its league victory string by downing Monroe 55-35. Other league wins were over: Jackson, 43-37; Walnut, 65-33; Williamsport, 54-22; Atlanta, 37-18; Ashville, 40-39; Pickaway, 40-31; Salt Creek, 68-41; Scioto, 46-31; and Darby, 62-45.

Close behind New Holland in the league standings was Ashville, whose only defeat was by one point to the Bulldogs. Ashville was well on the way to a victory in this particular ball game when the Bulldogs staged a great last minute rally to overcome a six-point deficit.

ASHVILLE'S only other loss was in non-league competition to Mt. Sterling, 30-20.

Jackson and Scioto tied for third place with 7-3 records. Darby finished in fourth with 6-4; Walnut, fifth, 5-5; Monroe, sixth, 4-6; Atlanta, seventh, 3-7; Pickaway and Salt Creek, eighth, 2-8; and Williamsport, 0-10.

Santee Fate To Be Ruled On Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—The fate of star miler Wes Santee, who faces permanent suspension as an amateur athlete, likely will be decided Sunday by a seven-man AAU investigating committee.

Santee, a Marine lieutenant whose 4:005 mile is the fastest ever run by an American, yesterday threatened legal action if he is barred from running in the 1956 Olympic games in Melbourne.

The investigating committee comprised of AAU and Olympic officials will look into what Pincus Sober, chairman of the seven-man group, called "new information not previously revealed."

Santee was suspended by the Missouri Valley AAU last Oct. 11 on charges that he accepted "excessive expenses" for three track meets in California in May.

On Nov. 20, however, the Missouri Valley AAU board of managers lifted the suspension on the grounds of insufficient evidence. Santee resumed his running career but withdrew from indoor meets in New York on a request from the investigating committee.

"My whole career as an athlete is jeopardized," Santee, former University of Kansas athlete, told a stormy meeting of the New York Track Writers Assn.

"More than anything else I want to run for my country and for the Marine Corps in the Olympics."

Welsh said he had been assigned to the Judge Advocate General's office at nearby Ft. Meade. His Army duties will permit him to leave Ft. Meade at 4:30 p. m. each Monday for the council's 5 p. m. sessions.

Appointed to a council seat a year ago to fill a vacancy, Welsh was elected to a full four-year term last May 3 only to be drafted for Army duty in the fall.

Work Doubled Over 5 Years In Some Duties

Biggest Gain Seen In Investigation Of Traffic Crashes

Activity in Sheriff Charles Radcliff's department has increased as much as 100 percent in certain categories during the last five years, according to a report issued today.

The number of investigations conducted by the sheriff's department climbed from 182 in 1950 to 353 in 1955. In these investigations, 27 breaking and entering cases were checked in 1950. By 1955, the number had risen to 53.

Automobile accident investigations have taken the sharpest hike. Last year, 471 accidents were reported. In 1950, there were 179. Five years ago, 114 persons were hurt in 65 auto mishaps. Last year, 368 were injured in 207 crashes, according to the report.

Members of the sheriff's department now travel 31 percent more, in comparison to five years ago. In 1950, 84,375 miles were traveled in delivering legal papers, serving warrants and completing investigations. Last year, the report states, the mileage covered totalled 110,409.

ONE CATEGORY shows a decrease. In 1955, 827 persons were confined in the county jail. In 1950, the figure was 1,161, but this dropped to 644 the following year.

Feeding of prisoners is one of the biggest items in the sheriff's budget, according to the report. For example, last year it cost $8,014.75 to feed 22,770 meals to the 827 prisoners.

Sheriff Radcliff cited these statistics, plus others, as reasons why he has had to ask for increases in his budgets.
